How Can Your Favorite Floor Plan Become Accessible?

Wheelchair Accessible Homes in the Raleigh NC Area

If you or a family member requires a wheelchair or scooter and needs just a little more room to get around, you've probably been frustrated by conventional homes and plans. Don't give up yet!

There are home plans noted as "accessible", but they are few and hard to find. Even when one is found, the definition of accessibility may not be clear. Are the hallways and doors wide enough? Is there a bathroom with full accessibility, ie roll-in shower, dismount space for commode, and 5 foot turning radius?

At Stanton Homes, we can take your favorite plan and work with you to incorporate accessibility, without sacrificing beauty or design.

An Great Home Gets Even Better with Universal Design

We worked with a couple that loved this plan inside and out, but needed an accessible home, and particularly an accessible master bath.

They also wanted an egress exit from the master bedroom, but didn't want the expense of running a deck and/or wheelchair ramp all the way from the back of the home to the front of the home.

Accessible Homes with Style

We were able to redesign the bedroom wing of the home to incorporate everything they were looking for. The hallways are accessible, and all doors are large enough. The master bath is now fully accessible, with an adapted bathtub.

The master suite has been relocated to the front of the home, so that the egress exit is conveniently located. The appealing exterior design was not affected by the changes, and in this case only a small amount of square footage needed to be added.

No reengineering was required, because all load bearing walls and supports were unaffected - which helps keep costs down.

At a very minimum cost, this accessible home is just what this couple was looking for!
